Meetings: Since the last ALI Board meeting, the Information Literacy Committee (ILC) has met four times (April 9th, May 7th, May 22nd, and August 14th) in the Wimba classroom hosted by Ivy Tech's Blackboard system, and once in person at our all-day annual meeting held at Purdue University on July, 9 2013.

Role Changes
• At the all-day meeting on July 9th new officers were elected for 2013-14:
  o Clarence Maybee is Chair
  o Sally Neal is Chair-elect o Catherine Pellegrino is Past-chair

Major Initiatives
• HAIL (Hoosiers and Information Literacy)
  o Webinars: Crossing Boundaries: Information Literacy from High School to College (April, 2013)
  o Resources: Learning Theories in Libraries tutorial; Professional development resources LibGuide
  o Upcoming activities:
    ▪ Presentation at ILF Conference (October 22-23, 2013)
    ▪ Survey to gather data on information literacy programming and professional development opportunities in public libraries
    ▪ LibGuide on open access ▪ Literature review of information literacy curriculums at the institutional level in a variety of types of institutions
    ▪ Resource and future webinar on developing effective information literacy instruction

• UnConferences – The ILC hosted three unconferences this summer with the intent of providing a venue to discuss solutions to common issues and share our local expertise. The unconferences were held in different areas of the state to enable academic librarians from around the state to attend without overnight travel. The locations and dates were:
  o Central Site: DePauw University, Greencastle, July 30, 2013 (Organizers/facilitators: Tiffany Hebb & Sally Neal)
  o Northern Site: Saint Mary’s College, South Bend, August 1, 2013 (Organizers/facilitators: Catherine Pellegrino, Leslie Morgan, & Nora Belzowski)
  o Southern Site: Ivy Tech Community College, Sellersburg, July 31, 2013 (Organizers/facilitators: Marie White, Chrsitina Wray, & George Bergstrom)

The ILC developed an unconference LibGuide to share information about the unconferences as well as a way to share information after the unconferences were over. A total of 64 academic librarians attended the unconferences: 13 at the Northern site, 36 at the Central site, and 15 at the Southern site. In a post-event survey, attendees at all three sites listed networking and the nature of the unconference venue as what they liked best about the events. A key takeaway for attendees was learning about various tools they could use at their home institutions. (see appended survey for details).

• New initiatives –At the all-day meeting in July, the ILC identified three projects for consideration during the coming year:
  o Speaker Bureau – develop a list of Information literacy speakers that includes specialties like finance literacy, health literacy, life stages literacy, etc.
  o Promote/educate about open access o Develop venues, e.g., newsletter, blog, etc., to share information about what the ILC is doing and where to go for information literacy support

Respectfully submitted,
Clarence Maybee,
Chair (2013-14), Information Literacy Committee
